April 2023 Communicator Deadline: March 20, 2023

Message from Pastor Mary

by Rev. Dr. Mary Lautzenhiser Bellon

This Lenten season we are walking through a series of paintings by indigenous artist Ovide Bighetty that depict Holy Week. This is the series of days following Palm Sunday that includes Maundy Thursday when Jesus gathered around the table for the last time with his disciples, Good Friday when we see the anguish of the cross, Holy Saturday when it is said that Jesus descended to hell to redeem it and then, the Empty Tomb of Easter.

On March 5th, Native American clergywoman Danira Parra will be with us to walk us through the paintings and to officiate at our Communion service. I hope you will be with us for this special Sunday. I am sure we will learn much about how these paintings are distinctly Native American and how they communicate to us the passion and resurrection of Christ.

During the Sunday services following this great weekend, we will look at an individual painting and explore how it communicates to us Jesus' journey, and ours, through Holy Week.

I hope you will also put on your calendars Maundy Thursday April 6th and Good Friday April 7th. On Maundy Thursday – from the word “command” in Latin that references Jesus’ command “to love one another” – we will gather around tables in Wesley Hall and on Good Friday – drawing on the meaning of “holy” or pious from the word “good” – we will have a service of readings and music led by the Chancel Choir.

In the Christian year, the Paschal Triduum is the period of three days that begins with Maundy Thursday and reaches its peak with Easter Sunday. In ancient times, this period was called, “the still days” because following the Maundy Thursday observance all bells and instrumental music of the church is silenced. In today’s world, we have the music of the church help us with our observance on Good Friday, but I would like to suggest to us that we all use the Paschal Triduum period as a reflective time within ourselves, a “still” time in our hearts to ponder the great mystery of God’s love and commitment to us and to consider what our love and commitment to God and others involves.

Light and grace,
Pastor Mary

About the Art:

Ovide Bighetty was born in 1969 in Pukatawagan Manitoba Canada. He is a Cree Missinippi- Ethniwak self-taught artist well known for his various painting series. In 2002, Indian Metis Christian Fellowship (IMCF) commissioned Ovide to depict the vision that an elder had of Kisemanito Pakitinasuwin - The Creator's Sacrifice; the Easter story or the Passion of Jesus Christ. Ovide accepted the challenge to paint the story in a fashion consistent with both the accounts in the gospels and aboriginal culture. Ovide painted the elder's vision of the Easter story in his own aboriginal style which he describes as 'Woodland Cree'. The setting for this Christian aboriginal artwork is the pre-European landscape of Ovide's childhood home, Pukatawagan First Nation, Manitoba, Canada. Bighetty's paintings are based on spirituality, stories and symbolism passed down by elders. He's well known throughout the Canadian provinces, and Europe. Ovide passed away March 20, 2014, and his artwork continues to make an impact. You can view and purchase his artwork online here.

Finance Committee

Positive Financial News for 2023!

The Finance Committee has passed the 2023 budget. The budget, which is pending approval by the Church Council, reflects improvement in Collegiate/Wesley's financial condition as we emerge from the pandemic. In fact, the $775,000 budget is expected to show a modest surplus! You, the donors to the church, have really come through. Pledges from the annual stewardship campaign show signs of rebounding, posting an increase from last year.

A portion of the projected surplus is the result of a one-time Employee Retention Credit payment from the federal government as part of its COVID relief efforts. Without this payment, Collegiate/Wesley would be operating at a deficit this year. However, the ERC payment comes at a good time, since it gives us some added cushion as we make continued progress toward a balanced budget every year.

Thanks for your continued financial support of Collegiate/Wesley!

Trustees

by Doug Warren, Facilities Superintendent

“And God said, “Let there be light,” and there was light. God saw that the light was good, and he separated the light from the darkness.” Genesis 1:3-4 Now, I usually leave the scripture and preaching to Pastor Mary, as she is a far better wordsmith than I am, but I couldn’t resist using that bit of scripture. This month I want to showcase a big change that will be used every Sunday, yet many might not even notice. Burnt out or not, every bulb in the chandeliers of the sanctuary were replaced to maximize the usage of the rented scissor lift. Now, I’m not a huge fan of heights, but with some cheerleading from Janelle (although she claims she was only there to call for an ambulance if I fell) the project was completed before the Installation Service for the Bishop. These new lights will not only make the sanctuary brighter, but they help tremendously with the ability to capture a good image for the livestream.

I hope you all are having a happy and safe winter. As spring approaches, the CUMC/WF garden committee will be starting its work soon. If you want to join in on the action, send me an email: doug@cwames.org. We’d love to have you join us!

Good Neighbor Concert

A Good Concert with a Good Neighbor

On Sunday, March 26 Collegiate/Wesley will be the host site for the 25th Annual Good Neighbor Concert featuring several Ames area Church and Community Choirs, including our artists in residence, the Ames Children's Choirs.

Several choirs will offer solo selections and the concert will feature some special music. The closing piece will be sung by all massed participants and shares the title of this event: "You Do Not Walk Alone." This stunning piece is a modern choral work by Iowa native Elaine Hagenberg, whose music has been sung here at Collegiate/Wesley and in venues all over the world.

We will celebrate two anniversaries at this concert; the first is the 25th anniversary of the GNEA Choral Concerts, finally energized after three years of silence. Second, 2023 will mark the 50th annual Masterwork here at Collegiate/Wesley. We will perform the Requiem by Gabriel Fauré featuring soloists from the Iowa State University Department of Music and Theater, and a full orchestra featuring members of the Des Moines Symphony.

Good Neighbor Emergency Assistance was founded to provide emergency assistance for Story County residents, with dignity, encouragement, and support.

Please join us at 2:00 pm on Sunday, March 26 for this important celebration.

This concert is being advertised widely, and we seek volunteers to assist with this great event. Contact Chris Anderson (cj4miles@gmail.com) if interested.

Sending to Serve

Lenten Special Offering

Students can face challenging and unique barriers throughout their experience working towards a college degree. Whether it's navigating mental health, identity development, personal or medical concerns, Iowa State University has resources and support available to assist students with overcoming their individual obstacles. One of those resources is the Office of Student Assistance who through their work, coordinate the care and support students need for academic success and personal wellbeing. Specifically, their office follows up with students hospitalized for mental health crises, supports students and bystanders navigating loss and its intersection with their role as a student, and facilitates response when an ISU student dies.

Student Assistance has a Crisis and Program Enhancement Fund which was started by a gift from Paul and Lisa Niebuhr after their son Evan died in an auto accident. Any giving received during this campaign would be used by the Student Assistance team via this fund to enhance services to students/families in a variety of ways. Specifically, targeted outreach and support to some students navigating significant challenges, follow up with those students, and creating resources otherwise not available given funding parameters at Iowa State.

We invite you to give generously to this program during the season of Lent. The impact is great and the need is huge. You can make a donation online at our website, by mailing a check to the church office or placing your donation in the offering plate using a Lenten Special Offering envelope. Thank you so much for your support!

Bridge Home Board Rep Needed

We are proud to partner with the Bridge Home as committed community partners. One of the joys of that partnership means we have the opportunity to lift up a name for a board member to serve on the Bridge Home board of directors. This responsibility is a great and beneficial one. It does take additional time and commitment not only to the Bridge Home but also to Collegiate Wesley. We are currently seeking a Collegiate Wesley member to fill the board role. If you are interested in learning more about this opportunity please fill out this interest form for our Sending to Serve cluster.

You can learn more about The Bridge Home on their website www.thebridgehome.org. To view their January newsletter click here.
